

Bilateral Exchange Agreements

Partner universities and number of places – 2026-2027

University Fernando Pessoa's students can apply for an exchange mobility period at the following partner universities, according to the available places and study areas at the host university:

The selected option doesn't guarantee a direct place at the receiving university without the confirmation, made by the IRO, of the place availability.

Students need to confirm that the course they want is available on the destination university's website.

The courses' acronyms are explained at the bottom of the page.
